Catalog Description
A study of the history, methods, and principles of the interpretation of the Scripture.

Course Narrative & Rationale
Biblical Hermeneutics is a junior level introduction to the methods of Biblical interpretation. It is a required course in the MDiv (Nazarene Ordination) Course of Study track, in the MAICS, and in the MA(TS) General Academic Track. It is a required proficiency for the MA(TS) Research Track for a Concentration in Biblical Studies. Biblical Hermeneutics is recommended prior coursework for all Old and New Testament Literature Courses and all Biblical Theology courses at NTS. It may serve as a Bible domain elective or a free elective in any Masters program at NTS.

Course Vision
Our goal as disciples of Jesus Christ is to guide people into transforming relationships with God. One of the significant challenges we face today is taking the message of this relationship as described in the Bible and making it relevant and understandable to contemporary cultures and contexts far removed from the cultures of the Bible. Our task as “stewards of the mysteries of God” (1 Cor. 4:1) is to find the transformative message of Scripture and to articulate it to our own contexts, being faithful to both text and context while preserving the intended message of the Scripture. Hermeneutics is one essential if not primary step in the theological task. Our theology (and the outflow of this through ministry) is determined to some degree by our hermeneutic, and our hermeneutic is guided by our theological presuppositions. With the new challenges and opportunities facing the church, we must formulate our convictions through careful interpretation of the sacred text. The instructor desires that each student learn skills of listening to the Author of the Bible through the development of biblical wisdom and functional skills of interpretation. Through wrestling with the written word in humility and openness, the interpreter may encounter the living Word who through the Holy Spirit brings truth, conviction, and power for life and ministry.

Course Caution
Because this course takes a strongly methodological approach to the interpretation of Scripture, you may discover some of your meaningful and fondly held understandings of the Bible challenged. It is not the purpose of the course to undermine, much less attack, personal faith. It is the conviction of the instructor and the experience of most alumni of the course that faith is strengthened by a stronger understanding of and capacity to interpret Scripture with methodological self-awareness. However, such fruits require both the disciplined work expected in this class and the maintenance of an expectant spirit toward the Bible.

Degree Objectives
The course will contribute to the following Degree Program Objectives found in the [NTS Catalog]

M.Div. #2: The articulation of the knowledge of this God through prayerful, scholarly study and a deepening understanding of the Christian Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments.

MACE #1: Appropriate and enhance the student’s ecclesial understanding of the Word of God, the heritage of the faith, the doctrines of the church, and the fellowship of believers, sufficient to enable him or her to deepen a personal commitment to God and His Church and to inform a passionate, vital, and redemptive ministry.

MAICS #2: Graduates will demonstrate the integration of theological convictions and cultural sensitivity in order to foster individual and social transformation.

MA(TS) GENERAL ACADEMIC TRACK #1: Students will develop a comprehensive knowledge of the major theological disciplines and their interrelationships.

MA(TS) RESEARCH TRACK #2: Students will develop skill in academic research and writing as a basis for further graduate studies.

Course Outcomes
At the conclusion of this course the student should be able to:

1. distinguish formational and informational reading of Scripture and to engage in both, (Assignment 2)
2. identify the primary characteristics and shapers of the major periods in the history of the interpretation of the Bible, (Assignment 1)
3. recognize, describe, and practice the major methodologies employed in twenty-first century biblical interpretation, (Assignments 2, 6, 7)
4. describe the way in which the Bible functions authoritatively in a community of faith, (Assignments 2, 3, 6)
5. describe the way the Bible developed – from beginning to contemporary versions, (Assignment 1)
6. determine the significance of textual differences for interpreting a biblical passage, (Assignments 1, 2, 4)
7. explain the strengths and weaknesses of the various contemporary English versions, (Assignments 1, 4, 6)
(8) use computer resources to gain access to the biblical languages, (Assignments 2,6)
(9) describe and practice a method of interpretation that incorporates the historical context, the literary structure and context, and theological content of a passage to arrive at the textual meaning, (Assignment 7)
(10) demonstrate the appropriate steps of exegesis for a specific passage of Scripture, (Assignment 7)
(11) articulate the reason for and importance of a method of interpretation, (Assignment 2)
(12) understand the terminology used in technical discussions of Scripture and interpretation, (Assignment 5)
(13) understand the usefulness of and use appropriately a variety of resources, (Assignments 6,7)
(14) describe the major theological themes of Old and New Testaments as a framework in which to interpret particular passages, (Assignments 1,3)
(15) apply the principles of interpretation to be able to hear the message of the text in the light of the historical, literary, and theological contexts, (Assignment 7)
(16) and articulate and apply a strategy for arriving at an appropriate application of a text to contemporary life. (Assignment 7)

Church of the Nazarene COSAC Competencies

This course seeks to fulfill the following competencies for clergy preparation in the Church of the Nazarene found in the Handbook for Christian Ministries:

CN 2 Ability to identify the books of the Old Testament by genre (Assignments 1,6)
CN 7 Ability to describe the major theological concepts of the Old Testament (Assignment 6)
CN 14 Ability to identify and describe the major theological concepts of the New Testament (Assignment 6)
CN 15 Ability to describe how the Bible came into being up to contemporary translations (Assignment 1)
CN 16 Ability to identify the steps of historical, literary, and theological analysis used in exegesis (Assignment 7)
CN 17 Ability to exegete a passage of Scripture using the steps listed above (Assignment 7)

Required Texts & Course Materials

The Bible: If you do not work in the Hebrew and Greek text, please use a more literal modern translation such as the NRSV, ESV, or NASB (others are possible) should be used.

Recommended Texts & Course Materials

Other resources will be linked or made available in Moodle.

Course Assignments & Requirements

The syllabus is the instructor’s covenant with students for the requirements to complete this course. No more assignments will be added than what is contained in the following. Please consult the instructor by email or phone if you have any questions about the assignments.

1. Reading Assignments: The textbooks by Klein, et.al. and Bray are to be read according to the schedule given in the Course Calendar below. Accountability for that reading will be given through your responses to Discussion Questions and Worksheets, where you may want to include citations.

After carefully reading the Callen/Thompson text, write a review and evaluation of the book of at least 800 words (3-4 pages double-spaced). The review should give evidence that the whole book has been read. You should conclude your essay with some observations on whether or not a Wesleyan hermeneutic is possible and if so, what might characterize it. The report is due on Monday, March 11. To submit this report, please use the link provided in the learning unit for Week 6.

Each week there will one or more items for you to read, including lecture notes. The lecture materials may include selections from Tate’s Handbook that are to be read and/or links to articles on the web that are to be read. Some weeks will assign Worksheets to be completed. Some worksheets may include other assigned readings as part of the necessary research (objectives 2, 5, 6, 7, 14, CN 2, 15).

2. Discussion Questions & Participation: Each week one or two Discussion Questions will be posted as part of the learning unit for that week. The Course Calendar below gives a date by which you must post your response to the question and a second date by which you are to have given a specified number of responses to other student’s answers to the 16 Discussion Question. There will also be a discussion for each of the eight worksheets (see #6 below), making a total of two discussion questions each week.
3. Outside Reading – Old Testament Interpretation:
The Old Testament poses significant challenges for many Christians. You will need to read at least 160 pages of material related to interpreting the Old Testament. In particular, you may want to focus on the question, “How is the Old Testament authoritative for Christians?” It is highly recommended that you read the first 160 pages of John Bright, The Authority of the Old Testament. If it is not available, you may read from another book or selections from several sources in the Old Testament Interpretation section of the course bibliography. A (double-spaced, typed) report of 300-500 words summarizing and evaluating this reading will be due on Monday, April 15. To submit this report, please use the link provided in the learning unit for Week 11 (objectives 4, 14).

4. Canon, Translations, and Textual Criticism Quiz: On Friday, February 15, there will be a quiz covering Study Guide 1 on canon, translations, and textual criticism and the class lecture material on canon and translations. Consult Tate’s Interpreting the Bible: A Handbook of Terms and Methods. The link to take this quiz online will appear in the learning unit for Week 2 (objectives 6, 7).

5. Terminology Quiz: Study the articles listed in the Study Guide 2 attached to this syllabus. The terms are defined in Tate’s Interpreting the Bible: A Handbook of Terms and Methods. The quiz will be due on Friday, March 29 (objective 12).

6. Worksheets: Beginning Week 6 a worksheet will be assigned as part of the learning unit for that week. The worksheets will provide an opportunity to practice and reflect on exegetical skills covered in the reading (including the lecture material) for that week. They will often require further reading in exegetical resources such as commentaries and Bible Dictionaries. They will be posted through the link in the learning unit for that week and will have (a) concluding question(s) that will provide further opportunity for discussion via the group discussion board. There will be 8 worksheets assigned (objectives 3, 4, 7, 8, 13, CN 2, 7 & 14).

7. Exegetical Project
   a. Preliminary Exegetical Work: As part of the exegetical project, you are to complete a step-by-step exegesis of your selected passage. You will need to submit the first four steps of this process (the others steps will be evident in the final paper). This preliminary work is to be your own inductive study of the passage and will not require significant outside research (but some may be needed), which will be a later step. Specific directions for this will be provided in the Lecture Notes. These steps do not need to have any special format but are simply some notes that you are taking as you study and reflect on your passage. Since these are simply notes, they will not be graded on punctuation, grammar, or formatting, but will be assessed on if you have followed the steps of exegesis as outlined. Simply take some notes according to the directions and submit these by Saturday, April 6. If you write something by hand, you scan the notes and upload them as a graphic or .pdf file. To submit these notes, please use the link provided in the learning unit for Week 9 (objectives 3, 9, 10, 13, 15, 16).

   b. Paper: One major project for the class will be a full exegesis paper of 4000 words (10-12 pages). By Friday, February 22, Week 3, each student should select a passage of Scripture for this exegetical project and have it approved by the professor. The exegesis paper should contain full historical, cultural, literary, and theological exegesis of the passage and a brief (no more than 500 words) statement of the direction contemporary application that could go with the passage based on the exegesis. Students should follow the steps of exegesis that will be provided in the lecture material in preparation for writing this paper. The paper should also include a section on the interpretation of the passage by significant interpreters in Christian history such as Origen, Chrysostom, Augustine, Luther, Calvin, Wesley, etc. The paper should be constructed using the style of Turabian. Extensive footnotes and bibliography are expected. The paper will be due on Friday, May 3. Please let me know if you are a graduating senior so we can make any necessary plans or adjustments for the end of the semester. To submit this paper, please use the link in the learning unit for Week 13 (objectives 3, 9, 10, 13, 15, 16).

c. Ministry Project & Presentation: Each student will give a presentation between 15-30 minutes in a ministry setting of his or her own choosing (local church, nursing home, mission, youth group, small group, etc.). The presentation will be based on the same passage as the exegesis paper and should come as the final step of the exegetical process. As part of this assignment, you must design your presentation for the specific audience, which should be clearly identified at the beginning of the report. For example, if you plan to teach a children’s Sunday School class, your presentation must fit that level of understanding (first graders should not be lectured to as if they were seminary students). Your presentation will be graded in part on how well you bring the message of the text to this specific audience. Presentation in this ministry context should be arranged far enough ahead of time to avoid scheduling conflicts with other activities in the ministry (please check with the pastor or other ministry leader to avoid problems and to plan for your presentation). Your options are as follows:

1. A sermon
2. A Sunday School class lesson (any age but must be specified)
3. A small group Bible study
4. If you would like to try a different option, please discuss it with the professor ahead of time.

An evaluation form will be provided in Moodle that you will need several people who hear you to complete. One of those must be a person with ministry training or some professional experience (seminary graduate, person with some higher education, a lay leader in the ministry). This evaluation will provide helpful feedback to you and the professor about how well you helped the people understand the message of the passage.

The goal of this assignment is to help you build a bridge from the biblical text to a real life context. Remember that this is not an exegetical paper but a practical message that is relevant to your particular audience. You will need to submit to the professor 1) a copy of your presentation, 2) copies of the completed evaluation forms (can be scanned or photographed as a graphic like .jpg or .pdf), and 3) a one page reflection on how you think your presentation went and how you feel you communicated the message of the passage. The project will be evaluated this way: 50% written presentation, 25% personal reflections, and 25% evaluations. The criteria will be 1) faithfulness to the message of the passage with clear connection to the exegetical work done earlier (measured in written work), 2) effectiveness in presenting this message in the ministry context (measured by the evaluations), and 3) organization and overall presentation (all three components). This presentation needs to be completed and with all paper work to professor no later Wednesday, May 8 (objectives 10, 15; CN 16 & 17).

Course Evaluation: Around Week 13, a course evaluation will be available in Moodle. Please take the time to complete. It will be used to improve the course. The professor’s peer accountability partners may view the results of your evaluation. The professor will never see your individual evaluation. It will be delivered to him through a third party to provide you with complete anonymity. Your serious participation is expected and appreciated.

Method for Submitting Assignments

Each assignment is to be submitted through its corresponding link in Moodle. Assignments are NOT to be submitted as hard copy, via fax, or via e-mail unless directed. Students should keep electronic copies of all work done for the course perchance they (or the professor) accidentally delete an assignment from the Gradebook.

Form and Style Expectations

All written work should be clear, organized, and carefully proof read before submission, watching for common grammatical and punctuational errors. All submitted work should follow the latest version of Turabian. For help in writing assignments, see Guidelines for Writing Papers posted in Moodle.

Inclusive Language

NTS is committed to the equality of women and men. Recognizing that people have often used the English language in ways that imply the exclusion or inferiority of women, NTS urges students, faculty, and staff to avoid sexist language in public discourse, in classroom discussions, and in their writings. All written work presented to meet course requirements must use gender inclusive language.

Policy Regarding Late Work & Missed Exams

All work is due by 11:55 Central Time on the date listed in the course syllabus and schedule. I will still accept any work as on time as long as it is time stamped before midnight. Moodle will give each submission a time stamp. To avoid having the wrong due time and date in Moodle, please check your personal profile to make sure your time zone matches that of NTS (set Timezone to “Server’s local time”). Late posting of discussion questions and responses will result in a 50% deduction in credit for the first week late and 75% reduction thereafter. Late papers will result in a 10% reduction in credit per week late up to 50%. All assignments must be in no later than the last day of the course (5/10). Even if your work is late, it is better to turn it in and get partial credit for it. If you know of some outside responsibility that will delay your work or participation, arrangements must be made ahead of time with the professor who will take each situation into consideration on a case-by-case basis. Request for an Incomplete should be filed with the Registrar far enough ahead of time to avoid failing the course. Late penalty for incomplete assignments will be put on hold once official notice for an incomplete has been made and accepted through the Registrar’s office.

Additional Costs

Beyond the textbooks and tuition, there are no additional costs for this course except any personal costs involved in arranging for the Ministry Project Presentation.
Course Grading

Course Grading will be based on a percentage system corresponding to the following percentages:

- A = 90%
- B = 80%
- C = 70%
- D = 60%

reserved for those who are significantly involved in the discussion and take the initiative, providing fresh insights into the issues.

If a student does not meet class participation standards in an online environment for four or more weeks, the professor may automatically fail the student.

Worksheets will be graded based on
- 25% insights into the core issues (Has the student go beyond the obvious and attempted to interpret the meaningful?),
- 25% thoroughness (Does the response answer all the questions asked?),
- 25% detail and support (Is there support from the Scripture and/or readings as needed?),
- 25% clarity and writing (Is the response organized and is the writing and grammar correct and understandable?).

Grading Rubrics for the written work are provided in the Appendix to this syllabus.

The professor will usually give feedback on assignments and discussions no later than seven days after the assignment is due or the close of the week in which the assignment is due. Larger assignments such as major papers may take longer. The professor will offer suggestions when possible for potential improvement on future assignments.

In accordance with the provisions of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, NTS is committed to providing students with disabilities the opportunity to participate and benefit from its programs and activities. Accordingly NTS will make reasonable modifications to its programs and activities to accommodate otherwise qualified students with disabilities, unless such modifications would impose an undue burden on the operation of the particular program or activity or would fundamentally alter the nature or purpose of the program or activity. Students needing accommodations should contact the Office of the Registrar. They also should contact the instructor no later than the end of the first class session to discuss learning needs and adaptive strategies that have been beneficial for the student in the past.

Class Attendance

Attendance at classes is essential for realizing the maximum benefit of your education and for achieving the learning objectives for this course. If you must be absent because of extenuating circumstances, contact the professor as soon as possible to discuss the situation. If a student is absent four or more weeks of the semester, the professor may automatically fail the student. Daily attendance records will be reported for those obtaining V.A. and Department of Education benefits. Students must make the professor aware if their attendance must be recorded.
