Catalog Description
This course is an “exegesis of representative passages of Mark so as to trace its account of the ministry of Jesus, and elucidate its message” (NTS catalogue).

Course Narrative & Rationale
For most of the history of the Church, interpreters paid less attention to the Gospel of Mark than to the other three gospels. The shortest, and in some ways, the simplest of the gospels, it was often viewed as a condensed version of Matthew. However, all that changed in the 19th century when scholars trying to reconstruct the historical life of Jesus began to argue that its simplicity indicated that it was less theologically developed and therefore more historically reliable. The contemporary scholarly tides have changed and, while Mark still receives an enormous amount of scholarly attention, many today recognize the difficulty of drawing a sharp distinction between “history” and “theology.” The results have been “good news” (i.e., gospel) for those for whom Mark is “scripture.”

We are beginning to see just how rich Mark’s theology actually is. It is the earliest Christology in narrative form presenting its audience with a profound depiction of the significance of Jesus. My hope and prayer is that this class will help you to better understand the way Mark does this and will equip you to preach and teach this book in ways that shape your own audience after the pattern of Mark’s central character, the cruciform Christ.

This course will consist of a combination of lectures and group discussions.
Degree Objectives Directly Addressed by This Course

MDiv

2. The articulation of the knowledge of this God through prayerful, scholarly study and a deepening understanding of the Christian Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments. (See all course outcomes)

5. The cultivation of gifts for ministry into competent skills and practices in worship and preaching, teaching and discipleship, care and counseling, evangelism and missions, administration and servant-leadership. (See course outcome 3)

6. The investigation of human society, thought and culture in order to articulate clear and coherent views of the context of the mission of the Church, and to develop an understanding of the Church as the community of faith with a passion for the gospel engaging in mission to different cultures. (See course outcome 1 and especially assignment 6)

MA(TS)

General Academic Track

1. Students will develop a comprehensive knowledge of the major theological disciplines and their interrelationships. (This course only addresses the student’s knowledge of biblical studies directly but it will also address a rudimentary knowledge of systematic theology and church history as it relates specifically to the material in the gospel of Mark. See course outcomes 1-2.)

Research Track

1. Students will gain specialized knowledge in designated theological disciplines as a basis for further graduate studies. (See course outcomes 1-2)

2. Students will develop skill in academic research and writing as a basis for further graduate studies. (This is only addressed if the student chooses to write a research paper in assignment 9. See outcomes 1 and 2.)

MACE

1. Appropriate and enhance the student’s ecclesial understanding of the Word of God, the heritage of the faith, the doctrines of the church, and the fellowship of believers, sufficient to enable him or her to deepen a personal commitment to God and His Church and to inform a passionate, vital, and redemptive ministry. (See course outcomes 1-2)

MAICS

2. Graduates will demonstrate the integration of theological convictions and cultural sensitivity in order to foster individual and social transformation. (See course outcome 2 and especially assignments 2 and 6a. Since all biblical interpretation is in some sense “cross cultural,” it requires familiarity with another culture to interpret the Bible well.)

Course Outcomes

Upon successful completion of the course you will have (R = Course requirement directed toward achieving objective):

1. Demonstrated a basic grasp of the content, literary features/movement, and theology of the Gospel of Mark (R1, 3, 4, 5, 7, 9)

2. Demonstrated a rudimentary understanding of the historical, socio-rhetorical, and literary background against which Mark’s gospel is best understood (R2, 3-7, 9).

3. Demonstrated an ability to utilize responsibly a passage or passages from Mark in an ecclesial setting, i.e., most probably teaching or preaching in a local church or para-church setting (R8).

1 COSAC is the Course of Study Advisory Committee. These are the required competencies for ordination in the Church of the Nazarene which this course addresses, albeit only partially in some instances.
Course Outline

Course Assignments & Requirements (Course Outcome = CO)

1. Reading Mark. (CO 1) You must read Mark through (preferably in one sitting but in no more than two sittings) at least seven times during this class, including once by April 13 at 11:55 PM. Use one translation for each reading but do not use the same translation each time. Make sure you use at least four different translations for the seven readings. You may also count a hearing of the gospel (an audio recording) as a reading. See the other scheduled readings on the Course Calendar below. Each time a reading is due, you must post a statement in the Reading Mark Forum in Moodle by the due date saying that you have completed that reading. Each reading counts 10 points toward your final grade, making all seven readings count 70 points toward your final grade. You cannot “make up” any of this reading. You can only get credit for what you actually read by the due date listed on the Course Calendar below. Since these are basically “give-away” points, this is an all or nothing assignment. You do not get credit for partial reading.

   Note Carefully To save time, as you read Mark, you should keep a running master list of critical questions and insights of comprehensive or theological significance that arise from a careful reading of the text. These questions and comments should not only note the scriptural context of the concern, but what matter of importance is at stake. These questions will later become a part of requirement 7 described below.

2. Longenecker/Theissen Reflection Paper: (CO 2) If you have not read Longenecker’s, The Lost Letters of Pergamum and written a paper based on it for me in a prior class, make Longenecker the basis for the following assignment. If you have read Longenecker and written a paper based on it for me in a prior class, make Gerd Theissen’s, The Shadow of the Galilean the basis for the following assignment.

   Read Longenecker/Theissen. Then read the Gospel of Mark carefully (this will count as your third reading of Mark). Assume for now that Theissen’s novel captures the socio-historical, cultural, and especially the political feel of Jesus’ first century setting in Mark’s story or assume that Longenecker’s novel captures the socio-historical, cultural, and especially the political feel of the first century setting in which Mark’s Gospel would have been first heard. Write a 750-1,000 word paper, typed, and double-spaced, answering the following question: How does understanding Jesus against this background change the way I read the Gospel of Mark? Give specific examples from the text of Mark which sound different to you after having read Theissen or Longenecker and explain why they now sound different. You may earn up to 50 points for this assignment. Your assignment must be uploaded as an MS Word file by 11:55 PM CT, Sunday, April 20.

3. Insights from Juel’s, The Gospel of Mark. (CO 1, 2) After carefully reading Juel, briefly describe 25 significant insights you gained from the book along with one to three sentences stating why they are significant. In each case, first note the insight and then note its significance. The book has 11 chapters. Make sure you draw at least 2 insights from each chapter (11 x 2 = 22) noting the chapter and page number from which you are drawing the insight. The remaining 3 may come from anywhere in the book. In your “insights,” you may choose to challenge/disagree with the author’s views. If you do so, make sure that you give a warrant/explanation for why you are disagreeing with his view. Statements like, “This doesn’t seem right to me” do not count as warrants/explanations. This assignment should be 1,250-1,500 words and will be evaluated on the basis of: (1) how well you appear to have understood and interacted with the biblical/theological issues raised by the author; (2) your ability to articulate clearly the significance of the insight in such a way that shows that you not only understand what the author said but why what he said is important; (3) your use of correct English; (4) your adherence to length requirements. For more specifics on the way I will grade these insights assignments, see the “Grading Scale for Insights Assignments-Juel” in Moodle in the Additional Course Resources Topic area. You may earn up to 75 points for this assignment. Your assignment must be uploaded as an MS Word file by 11:55 PM CT, Sunday, May 4. An example of an “A” quality Insights Assignment will be available in Moodle in the Additional Course Resources topic area. It will be called “Model Insights Assignment.” I may have an assistant grade this assignment.

4. Essay Summary 1. (CO 1, 2) You will read an essay entitled “Mark 11:1-20: The Fig Tree, the Temple, and the Nature of the Gospels” and summarize it in no more than 250 words. It is available in Moodle in the Additional Course Resources topic area. Do not offer a critical assessment; only summarize the material. It will be evaluated on the basis of: (1) how well you appear to have understood the main thrust of the essay; (2) your use of correct English; (3) your adherence to length requirements. You may earn up to 20 points for this assignment. Your assignment must be uploaded as an MS Word file by 11:55 PM CT, Sunday, April 13. I may have an assistant grade this assignment.

5. Article Summary 2. (CO 1, 2) You will read the following article: “The ‘New Creation,’ the Crucified and Risen Christ, and the Temple: A Pauline Audience for Mark,” Journal of Theological Interpretation 1 (2007): 171-91. After reading it, you will summarize it in no more than 300 words. It will be available in the library's journal holdings or possibly in Moodle. Do not offer a critical assessment; only summarize the material. It will be evaluated on the basis of: (1) how well you appear to have understood the main thrust of the article; (2) your use of correct English; (3) your adherence to length requirements. You may earn up to 25 points for this assignment. Your assignment must be uploaded as an MS Word file by 8:00 AM CT on Friday, May 23. I may have an assistant grade this assignment.

6. Fishbowl Discussion. (CO 2) You will actively participate in a “fishbowl” discussion during the class session on May 20. The “fishbowl” will consist of a class discussion/critical analysis of McKnight’s King Jesus Gospel. I will not simply give these points away because you show up in class that day. You must make regular contributions during this discussion period in a way that demonstrates an understanding of, and a critical engagement with, the assigned book and/or chapters. Depending on how many students are in the class, I may split the class in parts with parts of the class discussing parts of the assigned reading. If this happens, you will not know which part of the reading you will be assigned to discuss. In any case, you are responsible for all of the assigned reading. Hence, you should carefully read and take notes on the whole of the reading (in some form or fashion). We will attempt to limit the total class time we spend on the fishbowl to no more than 75 minutes. You may earn up to 50 points for your participation in this discussion.

7. Critical Reading Responses (CRR) to the Gospel of Mark, Brower, and Placher. (CO 1, 2) You will prepare two critical reading responses of 1,500-2,500 words each in which you critically engage a section of Mark (1:1-8:21 for CRR1 and 8:22-16:8/20 for CRR2) and the textbook reading associated with it. CRR1 must be must be uploaded as an MS Word file by 11:55 PM CT, Sunday, May 18. CRR2 must be must be uploaded as an MS Word file by 11:55 PM CT, Sunday, June 15. You may earn up to 125 points for each CRR making them worth a total of 250 points. An assistant may be grading your CRR’s.

The CRR’s should each have three sections: (1) Critical questions and insights of comprehensive or theological significance that arise from a careful reading of Mark itself prior to reading the selections from the textbooks. These questions and comments should not only note the scriptural context of the concern, but what matter of importance is at stake. These questions should be an edited version of your running master list of critical questions and insights that you generated during your prior readings of Mark. Note carefully: you must have at least one critical question on each chapter from Mark (1-8 in CRR1 and 8-16 in CRR2). (2) Critical questions and observations that your reading of Brower and Placher raises in your mind about the biblical text and/or vice-versa, critical questions and observations that reading the biblical text raises in your mind about your reading of Brower and Placher. (3) A comparative section noting any significant disagreements or inconsistencies between Brower and Placher as to how they address specific critical or theological issues. An example of an “A” quality CRR will be available in Moodle in the Additional Course Resources topic area. It will be called “Model CRR.” In addition, a grading scale for Mark’s CRR’s will be available in the Additional Course Resources topic area.

8. “In Ministry” Assignment. (CO 3) After May 23, you will teach or preach from a passage in Mark. You could do this in a local church setting (e.g., preaching, teaching a Sunday School class, a Bible study, etc.) or a para-church setting (e.g., preaching at a local rescue mission, leading a Bible study at a local nursing home or youth center, etc.). Whatever setting you choose, you must ask someone (preferably a pastor, a person in charge, someone with theological training who is not currently an NTS student), or a professional type person) to fill out an evaluation form and sign it. I must approve the person you plan to ask ahead of time. I will use that person’s evaluation of your presentation as well as your written sermon, notes, lesson plan, etc. to evaluate this assignment. The person will complete the evaluation form, place it in a sealed envelope, and sign their name over the seal. They will give that back to you and you will mail the unopened envelope together with your written sermon and/or sermon notes, lesson plan, etc. to me at NTS. It must be postmarked by no later than Monday, July 7 at 4:30 PM CT and sent to: Andy Johnson, c/o Nazarene Theological Seminary, 1700 East Meyer Blvd., Kansas City, MO 64131. You and/or your evaluator might also choose to submit your material electronically via an email directly to me. If so, I must have received all these materials by Monday, July 7 at 4:30 PM CT. Please note: I will not accept this assignment late. You may earn up to 60 points for it.

9. Take-home Essay/Research Paper. (CO 1, 2) You may choose to either write a take-home essay on a question that will be distributed the last day of class (3,000-5,000 words) or a research paper on some aspect of the interpretation of Mark (4,500-6,000 words). You may earn up to 400 points for this essay/research paper. Your essay/paper must be uploaded as an MS Word file by Friday, July 11 at 11:55 PM CT. Please note: I will not accept this assignment late.

The take-home essay will be a question (or questions) related to the interpretation of Mark and the ministry implications of the material we’ve covered in class and in the reading. Hence, to answer it, you will creatively draw on your class notes, all your course reading, and on your own theological reflections in the context of a ministry situation.

Unless you will have access to the NTS library or another equivalent theological library, you should not choose to write the research paper. As a research paper, it clearly requires additional research over and above your class resources. If you do choose to write the research paper, I must approve whatever topic you choose by Friday, May 23 by the time class is over. If I haven’t approved a research topic for you by that time, I will assume you are writing the take home essay.

As general guidelines for the research paper, follow the instructions given by Joel Green in the document, “Some Comments on Research Papers” (which also contains a grading rubric albeit based on a 100 point scale). It is located in Moodle in the Additional Course Resources topic.
I will assume you have read and followed Green’s directions when I grade your paper. Note carefully: You should begin your research paper with a thesis statement that explicitly states the thesis you intend to argue and return to that thesis statement in your conclusion. While the paper should generally follow Turabian style, you may consult the SBL Handbook of Style for proper form for footnotes, abbreviations, etc. You may also use the document entitled “Ripples and Luke 24HBT.doc” located in Moodle in the Additional Course Resources topic areas as a general guide as to how this paper should look in terms of footnotes and style.

Method for Submitting Assignments

Written assignments are to be submitted in Moodle using the appropriate assignment link.

The one exception to the procedure above is the “In-Ministry” Assignment which may be mailed to my office using the following address: Andy Johnson, Nazarene Theological Seminary, 1700 East Meyer Blvd., Kansas City, MO 64131. Or it may be emailed directly to me. See instructions under this assignment above.

Form and Style Expectations

Should you choose to write a research paper, it should generally follow Turabian style. However, you may consult the SBL Handbook of Style for proper form for footnotes, abbreviations, etc. and/or use the document entitled “Ripples and Luke 24HBT.doc” located in Moodle in the Additional Course Resources topic areas as a general guide as to how this paper should look in terms of footnotes and style. There are no style requirements for the other written assignments.

Inclusive Language

NTS is committed to the equality of women and men. Recognizing that people have often used the English language in ways that imply the exclusion or inferiority of women, NTS urges students, faculty, and staff to avoid sexist language in public discourse, in classroom discussions, and in their writings. All written work presented to meet course requirements must use gender inclusive language.

Policy Regarding Attendance and Late Work

You are expected to attend class regularly and participate in the daily discussions. Attendance will be taken daily. An absence will only be excused in accordance with the guidelines established in the NTS catalogue. Unless I have noted above that I will not accept a written assignment late, I will assign a letter grade penalty to all written assignments turned in after the time they are due. When an assignment is more than one week late, I will assign a two letter grade penalty to it. I will not accept an assignment that is more than two weeks late.

Course Grading

A Word about Grading: Evaluation in this kind of course, by its very nature, involves an element of subjectivity. It involves someone who is an expert in the field making a judgment on the kind of work you produce. That is a part of what you are paying for in this class. The primary factors I take into account in assessing “good solid graduate work,” the sort of work to which I assign a “B” are (1) ability to demonstrate a breadth and depth of understanding of the material engaged; (2) ability to engage this material in a critical way; (3) ability to exhibit how the material is related to a larger theological and ecclesial context. If you demonstrate a consistent ability to do these things in all your coursework, you can expect to receive a B. If you demonstrate consistent ability to do them incisively and with excellence, you can expect to receive an A. If you demonstrate an ability to do these things often, but not consistently, you can expect to receive a C. (Hence, I assume that a C means “average,” or “satisfactory” work. It does not mean “bad” or “unsatisfactory.”) If you seldom demonstrate an ability to do these things, you can expect to receive a D.

The final grade will be computed using the following point scale. There are 1,000 possible points.

- 70 Points Reading Mark
- 50 Points Longenecker/Theissen Reflection Paper
- 75 Points Insights from Juel
- 45 Points Essay/Article Summaries
- 50 Points Fishbowl Discussion of McKnight
- 250 Points Critical Reading Responses
- 60 Points In-Ministry Assignment
- 400 Points Final Exam

The following point scale will determine letter grades:

- A 1,000-900
- B 899-800
- C 799-700
- D 699-600
- F 599-0

Documented Learning Disabilities

In accordance with the provisions of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, NTS is committed to providing students with disabilities the opportunity to participate and benefit from its programs and activities. Accordingly, NTS will make reasonable modifications to its programs and activities to accommodate otherwise qualified students with disabilities, unless such modifications would impose an undue burden on the operation of the particular program or activity or would fundamentally alter the nature or purpose of the program or activity. Students needing accommodations should contact the Office of the Registrar. They also should contact the instructor no later than the end of the first class session to discuss learning needs and adaptive strategies that have been beneficial for the student in the past.

Class Attendance

Attendance at classes is essential for realizing the maximum benefit of your education. If you must be absent because of extenuating circumstances, contact the professor as soon as possible to discuss the situation. If a student is absent four or more weeks of the semester, the professor may automatically fail the student.

Daily attendance records must be reported for those obtaining V.A. and Department of Education benefits. Students must make the professor aware if their attendance must be recorded.
Audio and Video Recordings

In order to foster a safe learning environment in which various viewpoints are respected, audio or video recordings or transcripts thereof by students is prohibited without the permission of the faculty member in charge of the course. If permission is granted, redistribution of these recordings or transcripts thereof outside the scope of the course is prohibited.

Students enrolling in videoconferencing courses or participating in certain synchronous Moodle activities should be aware that their images and voices will be transmitted digitally through the videoconferencing equipment and may be recorded. Continued enrollment in these courses constitutes willingness to participate in the class with these conditions. If you have privacy concerns, please discuss your enrollment with the Registrar.
Course Calendar (Schedule of class topics may be changed at professor’s discretion)
