Paola Farmers Market

May 16, 2015

7:30 to 11:00am

Are you ready for Fresh Produce, the taste of a homemade pie, or just a ride around the square behind Miss Cupcake? Well if you are, join us this Saturday morning for all that and more. The Lions Club will be serving hot biscuits and gravy for your breakfast while you visit with your friends and neighbors. As usual Vickie and I will have free coffee and donut holes. We have quite a few new vendors joining us this year along with all your old favorites we hope.

I sent a quick note out this week to see what our vendors would have. A few they mentioned are:

Free Range Eggs
Lettuce
Spinach
Arugula
Organic baby kale
Asparagus
Radishes

Rhubarb
Pecans
Black Walnuts
Pecan oil
Honey

If you haven't set out your tomato plants you can pick them up Saturday morning. Along with basil plants for setting out. Grow you own Herbs.

This year Red Barn Quilts will be selling New & Vintage Quilts - hand and machine stitched. While another new vendor will be selling Homemade Maple Syrup and a maple cream that is made from the homemade syrup to use as a candy spread. Yummy sounds good to me.

A new vendor, Ellen Wegner from Olathe will join us and be selling homemade goat soap bars for dogs and other for people.

We will also have free range pork and beef for sale.

Well I must sign off now. Pass the word and join us this Saturday on the Square for the Farmers Market. Please share our Facebook Page too. "Paola Farmers Market"
