

RURAL METRO

SPECIAL NOTICE

When was the last time you reviewed specifics about your homeowners, renters or property insurance? These types of insurance may cover your home and contents should a fire occur and your medical insurance will cover some or all of your ambulance transport. However, nearly 100% of the time, these insurances, will NOT cover fire response services or EMS related service. This could result in thousands of dollars that will be billed to the homeowner, building owner or person responsible for the property.

Rural Metro Fire is a Non-Governmental Fire Department that has been serving Pima County for over 60 years and is not funded by your property taxes. It is crucial for you to enroll in a Rural Membership, in order to have fire and EMS coverage at no additional expense to you, as your property taxes do not include these services.

The odds of your home or property catching fire are pretty slim. In fact, only about 11% of Rural Metro Fire's® emergency calls are for fire-related services. Most of our 63,000 calls for assistance are for medical emergencies like heart attacks, car accidents, and even pet resuscitation! Over half of our calls are for EMS. Your Rural Metro Fire service membership covers these types of disasters.
