Medical Image of the Week: Septic Emboli

A 34 year old woman was admitted for a vasculitis workup after presenting with painful fingers, chest pain, and diffuse joint pain. Her blood cultures grew Staphylococcus aureus and she was diagnosed with mitral and aortic valve endocarditis. She had widespread joint involvement as well as a thoracic epidural abscess.

Jarrod Mosier, MD and Nathaniel Reyes, MD
Departments of Medicine and Emergency Medicine
University of Arizona
Tucson, Arizona